INSTRUCTIONS:

1. Cut a 4" x 15" length of fabric. Iron $\frac{1}{2}$ " of the right sides of fabric under on each short end of fabric.
2. Fold fabric in half, lengthwise, with right side of fabric facing in. Pin the long sides of the fabric together. Using a $\frac{1}{2}$ " seam allowance, sew the long sides together. Attach a safety pin to one end of the fabric and turn the tube of fabric, right side out. Position the seam in the middle of one side of the fabric tube and iron the fabric flat. Apply dots of glue to the un-seamed side of the fabric tube and place crystals onto the dots. Allow to dry.
3. Cut a 6" length of white elastic (cut elastic longer for larger wrists). Attach a safety pin to one end of the elastic and guide it down into the tube of fabric.
4. Position the other end of the elastic approximately $\frac{1}{2}$ " in from that side's folded end of fabric. Sew across the fabric tube so your stitches catch the end of the elastic.
5. Use the safety pin to guide the other end of the elastic through the fabric tube. Remove the safety pin and repeat step 4 on the other end of the fabric tube. Fabric tube is now "scrunched".

6. Guide a folded end of fabric down through one of the connectors with the three black magnets facing up. Fold the end of fabric over onto the back side of the scrunched fabric tube and sew. Repeat on the other side to complete the scrunched watch band.
